

DVD Summer School 2016

A Primer for students and families

This summer, Da Vinci Design will offer summer school courses to its students. All students with any missing credits (grades of “I” in a course, which will result in an “F”, or missing a course due to transferring into DVD as a sophomore) are encouraged to take a course this summer to ensure matriculation to the next grade level, and some students with multiple incomplete grades are required to take summer school in order to move onto the next grade level. Students should meet with their counselor or principal to discuss their summer school options and register for a summer school course.

Summer school will be held at Da Vinci Design: 12501 S. Isis Ave, Hawthorne CA 90250

Summer school will be offered over two sessions. Each session will count for one semester of course credit. This means students can only make up two semester course credits over summer.

Attendance Policy

Students cannot miss more than 1 day. If students miss more than 1 day for any reason, they will not receive credit for the course. If a student is tardy 3 times, that will count as an absence, and count toward the maximum allowable absences before losing credit. This means if a student is absent 1 time and tardy 3 times, they will not receive credit for the course.

Even if students have one day excused absence in week two for a family trip, then get very sick in week three, they will not receive credit for the course even though this will seem harsh and unreasonable. There are simply too few days in summer school to have multiple absences and receive full credit.

Grading

Students will be graded using mastery based grading, the same method used during the regular school year. Grades students earn will appear on their transcript and count for credit just as if they were earned during the school year. Incomplete grades earned during the school year will remain on the transcript as an “F” (and will not be replaced by summer school), but many colleges ignore incomplete grades if a student retakes the course over the summer, and recalculate the students’ GPA accordingly.
